Indemnity from China Should be Paid.

Austrian Statesman Gives an Exposition of His Views.

He Regards International Affairs as in a Critical Condition from Which Serious Complications May Arise.

Vienna, May 23.—Count Goluchowski, imperial minister of foreign affairs, in a speech to the foreign affairs committee took a somewhat gloomy view of the international outlook. In regard to China he seemed to hold opinions opposed to those of Lord Lansdowne, the British foreign minister, saying it was in the highest degree desirable that the payment of the indemnity be made in one sum, and that a suitable guaranty ought to be immediately sought for the necessary large loan.

In regard to Europe, in view of the conditions in the Balkans, it was impossible to say how long quiet would be maintained. Even the fortunate agreement between Austria-Hungary and Russia in regard to the Balkans could not prove a panacea against all surprises. There were certain disagreeable symptoms, notably the Bulgarian agitation in connection with Macedonia.

He enjoined increased vigilance to guard against a situation which could not be accepted.

In conclusion Count Goluchowski touched upon the resumption of diplomatic relations with Mexico, by which the continually expressed wish of both countries was realized with a complete regard for the susceptibilities of both. He said that normal political relations with Mexico would give a stronger impetus to the commercial development of Austro-Hungary.

RAVENS.

The Lima Ravens will cross bats with the Delphos Stars next Saturday, at Delphos and have made a few changes in players than last season. ## THE NINE NELSONS.

There are times when one's power of description fails. There are occasions when mere words seem weak and puny in comparison with the subject about which they are engaged.

This is a case in point. Who is the man with a command of eloquence equal to the task of doing justice to the unapproachable, the matchless, the all surprising Nelson Family.

Their work is indescribable. To convey to the laymen even a tithe of its manifold points of superiority and excellence. They are the acrobats of the age, descended from acrobats through generations of ancestors, who were each in turn kings and queens in their day. They have by process of evolution and hereditary attained a physique which is acrobatic in every pore, and renders it possible for them to perform with ease feats that other artists can only contemplate—dream of—but never hope to attain.

The Nelsons are under contract to The Great Wallace Shows and appear only with that great organization. The salary paid them is stupendous—almost past belief. They receive $2,350 for every week of service. This is due to the fact that Mr. Wallace wishes to control them exclusively. The Wallace Shows exhibit at Lima, on Saturday, June 1st.

Big as the immense tents are, their tremendous capacity will be tested to their utmost limits.

OLD SOLDIER'S EXPERIENCE.

M. M. Austin, a civil war veteran, of Winchester, Ind., writes: "My wife was sick a long time in spite of good doctor's treatment, but was wholly cured by Dr. King's New Life Pills, which worked wonders for the health." They always do. Try them. Only 25c at H. F. Vortkamp's drug store.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

Owing to their large and constantly increasing practice in this community, Dr. Stevens & Co., of Columbus, O., will make a return visit to our city.

Those who have been treated unsuccessfully by other physicians, will have an opportunity to visit these eminent specialists. Their cures are remarkable. They are effected in cases which seem utterly hopeless, and no one, no matter what his malady, should despair until after consulting these celebrated specialists.

The Doctors are meeting with unparalleled success by the use of the Paris Food treatment and Medicated Crayons. They issue to every patient a one hundred dollar certificate, to be paid in gold, if they fail to cure. Their object in doing this is to insure their patients that they will get value received for the money they pay.

Every sufferer is invited to consult their examining physicians on his next visit to Lima, Lima House, Thursday, May 30, from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. One day only.

MEMORIAL SUNDAY.

The Union Veterans' Union, their comrades and friends with the ladies of the Union Veterans' Relief Union, will attend services at the South Lima Baptist church, corner of Kibby and Pine streets, Sunday, May 25th. Our comrade, Rev. Gallant, will conduct the services. We meet at our hall promptly at 9:30 at which time we will march to the church. All ex-soldiers and their friends are most cordially invited to meet at our hall, Donze block, and go with us. By order of

In the Bamboo Shacks Called Houses

In the Land Which the U. S. Bought for Twenty Millions.

A Racy Letter from a Soldier Who Has Seen Service in the Campaign in the Philippine Islands.

Tayabas, P. I. March 28, 1901.
 Editor Times-Democrat, Lima, O.
 Dear Sir:—Having read a number of letters from the Philippines in the Lima papers, I will try to write a short article, which I hope you will print for the benefit of those who are under the impression that the Philippines are a modern paradise.

The Philippines From a Soldier's Point of View.

The Philippine Islands are a conglomerated mass of volcanic eruptions thrown up in the bosom of the broad Pacific about 8,900 miles from the nearest out post of civilization. It is bounded on the north by the Yellow Peril, on the south by those gentle zephyrs, commonly called typhoons, on the east by diabolic itch and despair, and on the west by the chances of ever getting home again.

On the islands are about 60,000 shadows, which some people call soldiers, but we can form our own opinion as to that. If nobody hears us, we are not allowed to think, the officers do all that.

This would be a fine place for some thoroughly ambitious person to start a suicide club; he would certainly have no trouble in securing a full membership.

Our best mode of transporting army supplies through the mountains is by the water buffalo, or caribon, as the natives call them, which drag an old two wheeled cart over the ground at the lightning speed of two miles an hour, when hurried. In starting on a march of 100 miles, the driver generally takes his entire family so that the younger generation can finish the trip.

Our rations on such a trip consist of bacon which our forefathers refused to eat in 1776, hard tack which were made before the civil war, and which we have to shave before eating.

The people live in little old bamboo shacks and all sleep on the floor along with their pigs, goats, dogs and monkeys, and in fact all their nearest relatives. They live on fish, which they first hang out on a bamboo string until they are thoroughly decayed and aromatically seasoned, boiled rice, baked rice, fried rice, and rice. The chief drink is a mixture of coconut sap, barb wire, ice books, and condensed insanity. Two drinks inside of a native has a tendency to make him dig up his old gun and hole and go hunting for soldiers, who are foolish enough to go on the street without being armed, and two drinks into an American gives him those very fine views of a zoological garden and makes him, like the native, dig up his little hatchet and go hunting his mother-in-law, just to have one of those little, heart to heart, conversations. All children under 12 years of age wear no clothes until the next year, the men look quite picturesque adorned in a flour sack with a big U. S. A. in the center of it, on Sunday they come out in their best which consists of an old discarded khaki trousers, a cigarette, and an old campaign hat. The women wear the old original leaf and nakedness.

A very interesting spectacle to witness, is the marriage ceremony, in which the bride elect solemnly swears to do all the work her husband wants her to do, such as making cigarettes, digging in the rice paddies, milking caribous, and scratching his back.

Our chief amusement, is the hanging of a Filipino, which occurs quite often, and which the boys all seem to enjoy.

The majority of the natives are very industrious in some of their own occupations, such as digging trenches, manufacturing holes, reloading old Remington shells, and such other pleasant work that strikes their fancy. The mosquitoes here are about equal to a battalion of your famous Jereys, and could, in case of necessity be used as carrier pigeons, being much stronger, and better adapted to the climate than those useful birds.

Luzon is the larger island in the group, being in shape similar to St. Green's old boot, and from the odor that arises, it is safe to say that it has been some time since St. changed his socks.

The imports of this modern paradise are mostly coffins, ammunition, Cyrus Noble whiskey, and St. Louis beer. The exports are sick, dead and discharged soldiers. The soil is adapted to raising foul odors, microbes, lizard, insurrections, old smooth bore cannons and the price of quinine.

Manila is the largest city and is situated on the bay of the same name. The city, such as it is, is a summer resort for American officers, the bay is a microbe infested basin, of a nameless kind of soup, studded with the remains of the Spanish fleet and a number of Chinese junks.

The Pasig, the largest river, is a dirty mass of dark, slimy fluid, which cannot be named in the American language, and which empties in the bay, and makes a mixture that is past naming. Taken as a whole, the islands are a cannibalized, barbarous, Aguinaldo infested blot on God's green earth, a $20,000,000 gold brick on the hands of the most easily swindled nation in the world.

As this is all I can say about the country that was shaken into existence by the combined chills of the American soldiers, I will close my narrative, hoping it will prevent all fools, old and young from sight seeing in the Philippines.

Now that the senatorial convention is over the field is cleared for the judicial contest which commands the attention of the Democracy of this judicial district more than any other political affair at this time. All of the candidates for the nomination were at Defiance yesterday and the contest was as prominent in the fence building as the senatorial contest was before the convention was held.

Both Delphos and Celina are making an effort to secure the convention and the members of the judicial committee will probably decide upon calling the convention for one of those towns within the next few weeks. Delphos seems to have the best of the contest at the present and the Democrats of that place are already making preparations to entertain the delegates.

"It is worth a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I recommend Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Druggist A. W. Sawtelle, of Hartford, Conn. "A lady customer, seeing the remedy exposed for sale on my show case, said to me: 'I really believe that medicine saved my life the past summer while at the shore,' and she became so enthusiastic over its merits that I at once made up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store to overcome with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose of this remedy which helped him. I repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my store smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever." Sold by all druggists.

WILL ORGANIZE A NEW PARTY

Followers of Mrs. Nation to Enter Political Field.

Several of the followers of Mrs. Carrie Nation in Topeka have issued a call for a meeting of the reformers of Kansas for the organization of a new party. Says the St. Louis Republic: The new party will be known as the National, in honor of Mrs. Nation. The reformers will organize their party immediately if the people will respond to the call which has been issued, and the promoters believe they can bring many of the old Populists into the organization. Mrs. J. P. White and the Rev. F. W. Emerson, who were prominent in the Nation crusades at Topeka last winter, are at the head of the movement for the organization of the new party.

Biliousness is a condition characterized by a disturbance of the digestive organs. The stomach is debilitated, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated. There is a loathing of food, pains in the bowels, dizziness, coated tongue and vomiting, first of the undigested and partly digested food and then of bile. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets allay the disturbance of the stomach and create a healthy appetite. They also tone up the liver to a healthy action and regulate the bowels. Try them and you are certain to be much pleased with the result. For sale by Wm. M. Melville, old post office corner.

A drop of rain caused a terrific explosion in the Pittsburg Store company's works the other day, says the New York World. Two men were terribly burned. They are Alexander Lewis, aged 23, and Emil Webber, aged 22. The men were ginding a huge coil of molten metal when a drop of rain fell through an opening in the roof into the mass, causing the explosion.

COMMISSARY IN CHINA.

Manner of Feeding and Caring For the Various Troops.

AMERICANS HAD THE BEST CAMP.

Ours Was the Cleanest and Best Placed of All—Rations of Japanese, British and Russian Troops—Superiority of American Mules and Transportation Arrangements.

The report of Captain Thomas Franklin of our commissary corps gives a very interesting account of the way the various troops were fed and cared for during the campaign of the allies in China, says the Washington correspondent of the New York Post. The Japanese had rice, bread, dried fish and tea, which they supplemented by the use of the sheep and cattle the country produced. They also had American canned meats, but these were not used freely. The British white troops had a ration similar to ours in quality and quantity, but not so varied or flexible. They used tea instead of coffee. The British Indian troops had about three-quarters of a pound of flour, about one pound of rice, one gill of vegetable oil, salt and once a week a pound of fresh meat, bone and all. The Sikhs ate only mutton or goat, but the Mohammedans ate everything except pork.

The Russians had little besides a black bread and soup. They were given quarter pound cans of some sort of meat preparation at intervals, much in the same way as the Japanese used American meats. They had the most cooking arrangements, though, of any. Upon a springless wagon was mounted an iron furnace under a semi-spherical boiler, water jacketed. The boiler was fitted with a tight cover, and the whole was very strongly and compactly built. Into this they put all the materials for a soup or stew that they possessed—and nothing came amiss—screwed down the cover, lighted the fire, and away went this perambulating soup kitchen with its company. When they made camp, all they had to do was "stack arms" and then march past the soup machine, the cook opening a faucet and each man receiving his ration of hot, well cooked, thick soup. The assistant cook in the meantime was chopping up a loaf of black bread with an ax, and each man got a liberal chunk.

The camp arrangements of the different nations varied as much as their rations. The Americans appear to have kept the cleanest and best policed camps. All garbage was promptly removed and buried in pits at a distance and other offal lined or covered with dry earth daily. The British kept fairly clean camps, but in a spasmodic way. They would let them get dirty and then turn a thousand coolies loose in them and do a week's cleaning in two hours. The Japanese kept their immediate quarters clean, but were not at all particular concerning their surroundings. The Russians and French paid little attention to camp sanitation and but for the cool weather in September would probably have had a hard time. On the other hand, the Germans kept their camps very clean and guarded the health of their men by the most stringent rules, but without had the biggest sick report of any.

The American transportation arrangements seemed to have surprised the foreigners. We used light wagons loaded with from 3,500 to 4,000 pounds so as to defy the muddy roads. One man carried for four mules, and each mule hauled from 700 to 1,000 pounds of stores. The other armies depended on carts which carried loads of only 500 pounds per animal, and each animal required one man to care for it. The way our mules followed the hell man excited general interest. A herd of 50 mules would be turned loose and kept under control by two or three men, and when in harness they could be driven without any change of speed over a crowded road or through the labyrinthine streets of Chinese cities.

The Japanese had many fierce little stallions, with shaggy manes and bulging eyes, serving as pack horses, with panniers, each led by a soldier. Besides these they had a multitude of small one horse carts, consisting of a light platform with neither sides nor ends, mounted on two small wheels. The Russians had carts also, larger than the Japanese, with flaring sides, and ends and drawn by Manchurian ponies of great strength. The British had a number of active, vicious little pack mules, led tandem, three in a bunch, a coolie leading the head mule. The burdens were held in place by an ingenious apparatus with loops and hooks, but the load did not stay on if the mule trotted or acted foolishly. The same army had also at first a number of wooden carts, which proved useless. Afterward some very good carts, steel built, arrived from India and proved serviceable. The French, Italians and Austrians had no transportation except what they picked up in the country. The Germans were similarly lacking until late in the season, when a large number of military baggage wagons reached them. But these wagons were not nearly the equal of ours in shape, capacity or strength and required two teamsters to our one.

All the foreigners appear to have paid more attention to the appearance of their uniforms than our troops did, but to have been less sensibly dressed. In hats and shoes our men were better off than any, and their blue flannel shirts were greatly admired.

NEW KIND OF MAIL WAGON.

Designed by New York's Postmaster, and Will Facilitate Collection.

Authority has been received by Postmaster V. N. Cobb of New York to advertise for bids for 23 new wagons to be used in place of the present two wheeled carts in the collection of mails from substations, package boxes and shoot boxes. The new wagons will be built on pans designed by the postmaster and will save much of the collector's time.

With the carts now in use the collector, after depositing the mail, has to climb to the seat on the front of the cart, a distance of more than four feet. The new vehicles will be four wheeled wagons, completely enclosed except for the door at the rear, says the New York Press. At the left of this door is the collector's seat, and a rear platform only about one foot from the roadway permits him to deposit the mail and lock the door while the wagon is in motion. A speaking tube connects the collector's post with the driver. With the new equipment five new collection routes will be established.

McKinley Planning a World Tour.

In a recent interview Congressman B. E. Dorener spoke as follows, says the St. Louis Republic: "President McKinley's contemplated trip is a mark on epoch. At the end of his second term the president, in the prime of life, at the age of 62, is planning a tour of the world on a more comprehensive plan than the trip of General Grant in 1877."

Trolley Men to Don Shirts Waists.

The Jersey City, Hoboken and Paterson Trolley company has granted permission to its employees to wear shirt waists this summer, says a Paterson (N. J.) dispatch. It is understood that the conditions of the permission prohibit red, pink and violet colors, which are likely to jar the aesthetic passengers.

ANOTHER HONOR ROLL.

Harvard to Commemorate Her Famous Graduates and Instructors.

The big living room of the new Harvard Union, the social club for all Harvard men which is now being built in Cambridge, will have something of the character of a memorial to distinguished graduates, professors and holders of honorary degrees.

The room will be finished in oak, with two large mantels. Over the first of these will be a bust of Washington, who was the first to receive the honorary L.L.D., taking it in 1776, while he was besieging Boston, and over the second an ideal bust of the founder of the college, John Harvard, of whom no portrait exists. In the panels about the room will be inscribed in gilt incised letters the names of distinguished men who have had some connection with the university, the great majority of course being graduates of the college. There will be space for 200 names altogether. The first selection of 22 names is as follows, with the dates of classes or of receiving an honorary degree:

John Adams, 1735; James Russell Lowell, 1833; Louis Agassiz, 1838; Ralph Waldo Emerson, 1821; Joseph Warren, 1759; Cotton Mather, 1678; Joseph Story, 1798; Benjamin Peirce, 1829; Edward Everett, 1811; Asa Gray, 1841; Henry Dunster, first president of Harvard college; Charles Sumner, 1830; John Quincy Adams, 1787; Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, 1820; Oliver Wendell Holmes, 1829; John Winthrop, 1722; James Otis, 1743; William Ellery Channing, 1798; Nathaniel Hawthorne, 1802; George Bancroft, 1817; Samuel Adams, 1740; Washington Allston, 1809; Charles Bulfinch, 1781; Francis James Child, 1846; and Jeffries Wyman, 1837.

From time to time other names will be added until eventually this roll of honor shall comprise "all those sons of Harvard whom Harvard men loved best or held in highest esteem."

MILTON AS A PLAYWRIGHT.

Portman Poet's "Comus" to Be Revived at Tufts College.

John Milton's famous masque, "Comus," is soon to be put on the stage by the students of the English department at Tufts college, near Boston. It was originally written to commemorate the appointment of the Earl of Bridgewater as lord president of Wales and was first performed at Ludlow castle in 1634.

Such masques were a common entertainment in court circles in the days of Charles I. and were staged with great splendor, the various parts being taken by fashionable amateurs. There is a tradition that the story of "Comus" was founded on the fact that the daughter of the Earl of Bridgewater was lost by her two brothers in Haywood forest, near Ludlow, and the parts of the Lady and the First and Second Brother were taken in the performance by the earl's children, who thus acted on the stage the incidents which had actually happened to them in real life.

In the performance at Tufts it is the intention to introduce the original scene at Ludlow castle as closely as possible. The play will be given in the college gymnasium, which will be transformed into a great hall suggesting the audience chamber at Ludlow, and as far as possible all the ancient details of stage setting and general arrangement will be revived. The costumes are to be copied from a well known series of water color illustrations to "Comus" by William Blake, the English poet and artist, which are now owned by the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. The music, which was always an important and delightful feature of the old masques, was written by Henry Lawes, the most famous composer among Milton's English contemporaries, and thus will be rendered in full.

KING EDWARD VITUPERATED

Extracts From Article Which Caused Seizure of The Irish People.

The police of Cork, Limerick and other towns of Ireland seized all the copies of William O'Brien's weekly paper, The Irish People, found at the news dealers' shops the other morning. The offending article, it now appears, was an abusive attack on King Edward and the Roman Catholics' address to the king, says a Dublin dispatch to the New York Times. The following are some of the remarks which caused the paper's seizure:

"Down upon his knees before an old and baldheaded rascal: * * * lover of every woman of fair features who has appeared in English society for 40 years, including titled dames and as yet untitled actresses; * * * the English gentleman-perjurer of a history of divorce cases; the polluted hero of one of the most malodorous scenes in Zola's rotten novel, 'Nana,' the center of a score of the most disgraceful scandals of the most contemptible type—down in front of this English king, whose latest public performance was to stigmatize on his solemn oath the whole Catholic world as superstitious idolaters, knelt the English born cardinal prince of the church, with a document that might have been presented to a Legation in a southern plantation 50 years ago, but not by an Uncle Tom, poor but contented, of Harriet Beecher Stowe's great story, who would have seen his black skin stripped off inch by inch rather than put his mark to a document like that signed and presented by Cardinal Vaughan and the Duke of Norfolk."

"As for his solemn oath, we do not believe he attached the slightest solemnity to the performance. But the few remains * * * this old and worn-out descendant of a race of hideous immorality as revealed by the most of the sacred doctrines and superstitions. He has not yet repented. He has not said a word to indicate he did not thoroughly approve of the terms of the oath framed in the days of Titus Oates. The oath of a perjurer is no less vile than that of the robbing emu, but on bended knees the prince of the church knelt before this unutterably abominable person. Let us console ourselves with the fact that the presenters were English Catholics, who are repudiated by the only really Catholic nation now in existence. The Loyalists represented England only, and if the English Catholics choose to acknowledge themselves superstitious idolaters it is no fault of ours."

AN ODD ROMANCE.

Virginia Girl Put Her Card In a Can and Will Soon Be Married.

Invitations were issued recently for a romantic wedding. The bride to be is Miss Margaret Hallett of Wellesburg, W. Va., and the groom Mr. John Zimmerman of Benwood, W. Va., formerly of Baltimore. The manner of their becoming acquainted is decidedly novel, says the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Miss Hallett a little over a year ago, with a party of friends, was calling at the office of a local baking powder factory. In a spirit of fun one of the other girls in the party bantered Miss Hallett to put her card into one of the cans of baking powder. Miss Hallett took a card from her case, completed the address with a pencil and, adding "Please write," put the card into one of the small cans. There was a great deal of good natured rivalry about the incident, but none was more surprised than Miss Hallett to get a letter from Mr. Zimmerman at Baltimore, enclosing the card and asking her to give good notice to acknowledge the message. The can of baking powder had been sent as a sample to a big Baltimore jobbing house, and there fell into Mr. Zimmerman's hands, he being the buyer of that line.

Miss Hallett happened to have relatives and other friends in Baltimore, and before she wrote to Mr. Zimmerman she inquired concerning him. Finding there could be no serious objection to continuing the romance, a letter further, Miss Hallett wrote Mr. Zimmerman a polite note of acknowledgment. This brought a reply, and others followed in turn, till they began to think it would be pleasing to meet. The meeting was properly arranged, was eminently satisfactory, and the coming marriage, which takes place May 27, is the outcome.

AN ATHLETIC MILLIONAIRE.

Exploit of Ex-Governor Hogg, Who Has Struck Oil in Texas.

The striking of oil on the Texas lands, which has made a millionaire of ex-Governor Hogg, would not surprise some of the friends of his youth if the striking had been done by the gigantic Texan's own hands, says Harper's Weekly. His feats of strength were scarcely excelled by those of Dan Rice himself when that athlete gave the first public exhibition in Europe of what Young America could do in the way of lifting bogheads, heaving pig iron and withstanding pressures supposed to be sufficient to kill any ordinary person.

Of young Hogg it was told that he duplicated the exploit of the south's famous giant at the beginning of the last century. Peter Francisco of Buckingham county, Va., who threw an angry bull, according to tradition, over a nine rail fence and made him angrier than ever. As a new comer among American millionaires Mr. Hogg will find few physical equals. Most of those who make big fortunes are small men.

Preparation For Summer.

This year there have been planted 1,200 acres of cantaloupes in Texas valley, New Mexico, with an estimated yield of something less than one carload to the acre, says the Dallas Democrat. Chicago will be the market, and the minimum price per carload is $300.

Neuralgia.

The Prayer of a Nerve for More Blood.

Neuralgia may attack any part of the body but most frequently occurs where the nerves are most abundant.

In the head. Sometimes the heart nerves seem to twist. Twinging rheumatic pains of the extremities.

Sharp and intense at times. In the intervals dull and heavy. Neuralgia is the result of impoverished blood, caused by the impairment of the nerves.

It is a disease of the nerve centers, and the pains accompanying it are a prayer for better nourishment. They are the danger signals which warn you against a total collapse of the nervous system.

Liniments and all external applications can only give temporary relief. Permanent cure cannot possibly come until the nerve centers are thoroughly revitalized by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills.

The beneficial effects of this great nerve restorative are felt thrillingly through the nerve fibres as week by week and month by month the nerve force of the body is restored.

Women afflicted with diseases peculiar to their sex are frequently great sufferers from neuralgia. Dr. Chase's Nerve Pills positively cure both these disorders by filling the nervous system with new vigor and life.

Send a box at all dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. The genuine has portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase on each package.

Mrs. J. H. Warrick, of No. 280 Philadelphia St., Indiana, Pa., says: "I can recommend Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills to anyone who suffers as I did with nervous sick headache—neuralgia of the head and a weakened stomach digestion. They stopped the headache, the neuralgia disappeared and with it the stomach trouble."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than in any other. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it a neuralgia. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and, therefore, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally, it acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

THE YOUNGER BROTHERS

History of a Remarkable Family of Western Desperadoes.

WILL SOON BE SET AT LIBERTY.

Their Total Known Robberies Amounted to $155,300—Story of the Northfield (Minn.) Raid, Their Waterloo—Flight and Capture—Their Good Record in Prison.

Following is a list of the robberies known to have been committed by Cole, James and Bob Younger, the famous outlaws, who will soon be released from the state prison at Stillwater, Minn., and the James brothers, Jesse and Frank. How many others were committed by the gang will never be known:

First year after the war, Liberty (Mo.) bank Oct. 30, 1866, Lexington (Mo.) bank... $2,000
May 23, 1867, Richmond (Mo.) bank... 1,000
March 26, 1868, Russellville (Ky.) bank... 17,000
June 2, 1871, Corydon (Ia.) bank... 45,000
Columbus (Ky.) bank, date not known... 200
1872, Kansas City expedition... 10,000
May 1, 1873, St. Genevieve (Mo.) bank... 4,100
July, 1873, train robbery, C. R. L. and P., in Iowa... 6,000

Total known... $155,300

The last raid of this gang was their Waterloo, says the New York Evening World's St. Paul correspondent. They got not a dollar, but death and capture broke up their depredations. They dashed into Northfield at noon Sept. 7, 1876. The gang consisted of Coleman, James and Robert Younger, Frank and Jesse James, Clell Miller, Charlie Pitts and Bill Chadwell. All had been Quantrell raiders.

Three of the men rode into town, hitched their horses near the bank and stood and talked. A few moments later the other five dashed into town, yelling and shooting. The three on the corner called out to pedestrians, "Get off the street!" and people fled. The three on the corner—Jesse James, Charlie Pitts and Bob Younger—ran into the First National bank. Haywood was the cashier. He slammed the inner door of the safe. They drew a knife across his throat, but he refused to open up. Two clerks escaped, but in doing so they were wounded. Haywood heroically stood his ground. Citizens by this time realized what was up and began shooting on the gang outside. One of the gang rushed to the bank door and called: "It's getting hot out here. Hurry up." The three in the bank rushed out. One of them looked back and saw Haywood taking something out of a drawer. Haywood was instantly killed. It has always been claimed that Jesse James did the shooting. Bill Chadwell and Clell Miller were killed on the ride out of town. Jim Younger's horse was killed, and Jim was wounded.

In 12 hours posses were in pursuit. Other counties had been notified and turned out. The handbills were run to cover Sept. 11, four days later. They fought like caged animals. Frank and Jesse James escaped. Bob Younger, his brothers wounded, stood by their side. Charlie Pitts was also there. Jim and Cole Younger loaded and handed Bob pistols, and he fired at the posse. They finally got away, but were trapped two days later, the 13th. Pitts was killed. The three Youngers gave up. At their trial they pleaded guilty and were sentenced for life, there being no capital punishment in Minnesota.

They were sent to Stillwater, Minn., the site of the state prison. There Jim and Cole have remained ever since. Bob died in prison of consumption in 1880. Only once did either ever open his mouth as to the killing of Haywood except always to protest that neither did it. The one time was when Jim said to a Cincinnati reporter: "Jesse James did not kill Haywood, because he was not with us. He was in California." However, this was never believed by detectives who worked up the case. The writer of this sketch also knows better. At least he had the word of one of the friends of the James boys.

The record of the Youngers in prison has been such as to win the confidence, esteem and sympathy of every official connected with the prison. Not a single mark is against them. Bob's death was actually a day of mourning in the prison. Cole has been a student of theology for the past 11 years. Jim is and has been the prison librarian. Cole (Thomas Coleman) Younger is 57 years old and has a captivating manner. He is said to look much like Senator Hanna. He never married. He has been wounded 20 times, 11 the result of the Northfield affair.

James is 51 years old. He is a man of fine physique and prepossessing manner. He never married. He has been wounded six times. Four were received in the Northfield affair.

Here is a tabloid form of their early history: Born in Jackson county, Mo. Father, judge, legislator, wealthy farmer. In the beginning of the civil war the family was loyal. Kansas Jayhawkers raided their farm and killed the stock. Cole, 17 years old, imbibed, joined Quantrell, who made him a lieutenant. After Quantrell's death General R. Kirby Smith sent Cole to Louisiana to command forces there; 1863, commissioned by Confederate government to raise a regiment in California. White so engaged Lee surrendered.

Jim joined Quantrell's flag after Cole, and he and Bob, who was also a Quantrell raider, remained with Cole to the end—that is, until all were captured near Northfield. On the return of Cole from California he found a price had been set upon his head. Then he, with his brothers and others, began a guerrilla warfare on the border and a system of looting banks, railroad trains and stagecoach robbery which has no parallel in the history of any country.

A NEW USE FOR PARKS.

Two Technical Observatories Established in Boston Park System.

While a park is primarily a pleasure ground, there are certain other ways in which it can sometimes be utilized for the public good. A notable example of this is found in the metropolitan park reservation of Boston, which provides sites for two scientific establishments, the meteorological observatory, on the Great Blue hill, and the geodetic observatory, in the Middlesex fells, which are so located as to add distinct interest to the scenery and to carry on technical work under the most favorable circumstances.

The first of these, the meteorological observatory, is maintained by Mr. A. Lawrence Roth as a branch of the Harvard observatory on the highest point of land so near the sea between Maine and Florida. It is a picturesque stone building, with a low, round tower, fully equipped with meteorological instruments. During recent years the most interesting work of the station has not, however, been done on the beautiful peak 635 feet above the sea level, but in the overhanging clouds, thousands of feet higher than the observatory itself. These investigations of the upper air have been made by means of kites of scientific construction, which carry various self-recording instruments, including an anemometer, an alcohol thermometer, a hydroscope and a barometer.

Year	Number flights	Average height of flights, feet	Greatest height of flights, feet
1894	2	1,573	2,490
1895	28	1,773	2,940
1896	56	2,773	3,240
1897	38	4,307	11,710
1898	23	7,250	12,730
1899	22	7,400	12,440
1900	22	6,070	13,590

The highest flight, 15,800 feet, something over three miles, was made July 19 last year and was the means of securing an observation at an altitude greater than that of Mount Blanc.

The site of the geodetic observatory of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology is on a hill in the Middlesex fells in another part of the reservation, but still within sight of the Blue Hill station. It is a small building constructed of field rock and is practically cut in two by an opening which allows observations of the meridian from one side of the horizon to the other. Among the advantages of this location may be mentioned a firm foundation for the most delicate instruments, free from the vibrations caused by railroad and highway traffic, an absence of magnetic disturbances and a view of the heavens unobstructed by smoke or dust. The observatory is a valuable magnetic station, and its observations will be incorporated in the general magnetic work of the United States government.

ACTOR UPSET SCHEDULES. Mansfield Refused to Ride Fast and Created Confusion on the Alton.

Because Richard Mansfield was once in a small railroad wreck and therefore does not like fast riding, the train service of the Chicago and Alton between St. Louis and Kansas City was thrown topsy turvy the other night, many freight trains were delayed an hour, passenger trains were made to sit track at the wrong time and the people who used the Alton between St. Louis and Kansas City were more or less discomfited, all because Mansfield did not want to ride faster than 20 miles an hour, says the Chicago Record-Herald. The Mansfield train left East St. Louis for Kansas City on an eight hour schedule and started out at 50 miles an hour. When the train reached Roodhouse, Ill., Mansfield stepped for the conductor. "This train is running too fast," he said. "I want the speed reduced to 20 miles an hour."

"All right, sir," said the conductor, and until evening the train ran slower. Dispatches were sent out all along the line, and the other Alton trains waited long on side tracks for the Mansfield special to crawl by. It was dark when the train reached Slater, Mo., and it was concluded that if the speed were increased the actor might not notice it. But it happened that just at that time Mansfield sat down to his supper, and the motion of the car threw some coffee from the cup into the saucer.

"Stop," said Mansfield; "this train is going too fast." So again the speed was reduced, and the train, due at Kansas City at 9 o'clock, did not arrive until long after midnight.

Ethnology Expedition to Cuba. Ethnological investigations in China, to continue for three years, will be instituted soon by the American Museum of Natural History, says the New York Post. Funds have been provided by a friend of the museum, who declines to have his identity made known. Dr. Berthold Laufer, who will be in charge of the expedition, will start for China next month. Dr. Boas of the department of ethnology thinks the expedition will result in a better knowledge of the Chinese and their country and place this nation in a position to deal wisely with any questions that may arise regarding the Chinese or their country. Collections will be made showing what the people do and how they live. Attention will be given also to fixing the influence Chinese culture has had on eastern Asia.

HARD

Work Ahead for the Republicans

And the Effort

They're Making Will be Fruitless.

Senatorial District Will Continue to be Solidly Democratic.

Williams County Wants the Next Senatorial Convention and Will Have a Candidate—Convention Echoes.

The effort that the Republicans are making to break into the Thirty-second Ohio Senatorial district are amusing to the Democrats who are well informed as to the present status of political affairs in the district. Those who attended the senatorial convention at Defiance yesterday are especially amused at the articles published in the Republican newspapers in which there have been attempts made to show that there is discord in the party ranks. There never was a convention more harmonious than that held at Defiance yesterday and the delegates and others who were in attendance declared that with Crites and Becker as their standard bearers the old reliable Thirty-second district would roll up a larger majority next fall than ever before. Dr. Wm. Denman, of Williams county, who withdrew from the race before the convention was called to order is a very popular and loyal Democrat and will very probably be a candidate for the nomination in two years. He assured the nominees of yesterday's convention that Williams county would increase its Democratic majority by several hundred votes next fall.

The Toledo Bee, which was represented in the convention by W. T. DeWolfe contains the reference to the Republican squall:

"The stories about a 'hog combine,' consisting of the old followers of Senator Brice, are as thin as air and the leader declare that nothing has been done or will be done to give strength to the republican claims."

"Dr. Denman, who withdraws, is not unhappy and the wise ones figure that the conference of last night was conducive to more harmony than appears on the surface."

"The friends of Colonel Kilbourne are here good and strong, and among them 'the original Kilbourne man,' A. D. Shettler of Columbus, and Colonel Bill Taylor. These two were anxious to have the convention speak out loud upon Kilbourne's candidacy, but the program at this time is to be silent upon that subject."

At the Crosby.

A more representative assemblage of the Democracy of northwestern Ohio than that which was seen in that popular hostelry, the Crosby House, Tuesday evening and yesterday, could not be conceived.

Anglicize county was represented by B. W. Laxton, congressman R. B. Gordon, J. H. Cooke, Mr. Hoskins and several other prominent Democrats. Hugh Mathers, of Sidney, one of the candidates for the nomination for judge of the common pleas court was with the Shelby delegation. Williams county sent one of the best delegations that could be found, headed by county treasurer J. E. Scott, attorney Scott, George C. Rings and a number of other clever gentlemen. The Paulding county crowd was headed by W. N. Shaffer and county surveyor Johnson. Among the prominent Van Wert county men present were Horace Richie and George H. Kohn. Mercer county had the honor of sending the representative who was chosen as chairman of the convention, Judge S. A. Armstrong. The war horses from Allen county were present in scores among them being W. B. Richie, C. D. Crites, Judge Miller, J. W. Gensel, P. T. Mell, A. G. Lutz, Dr. E. J. Barr, C. H. Adkins, J. C. Ridenour, U. M. Shappell, Judge Cunningham, D. H. Toland, Judge Lindeman, of Delphos, and more than a hundred others.

STRANGE

Freak of an Oil Well at Quincy.

The Hole was Abandoned Two Years Ago.

But the Oil Suddenly Found an Opening and Bursting Its Sounds Spouted Into the Air.

There are peculiar happenings in the oil field every day, but an incident comes to light from Quincy, O., which is ahead of many of the strange results in the struggle to get a hole into the oil lakes beneath terra firma. Two years ago, a farm of 175 acres near Quincy was leased by Thomas Holliman, now deceased, to a Lima company. The derrick was erected and the well drilled to a depth to make sure of oil if it was to be found in the vicinity, but to the disappointment of the drillers as well as to the lessors, the rigging had to be pulled up and the well marked as another failure.

The lease has since passed into the hands of W. A. Nutt, James Speese and John Wells, all of Quincy and their faith was rewarded yesterday by a sudden convulsion of some kind at the depth of the old abandoned well, which shot the cover off and the oil spouted high into the air.

Considerable excitement has followed the discovery and the field will now offer another good piece of territory for development.

BUFFALO

Is an Attraction Better Than a Circus for Small Boys.

Two boys, Earl Patterson and Charles Henry, giving their ages as 17, were picked up by officer Shook and Grant last night and held until this morning for a safe keeping. They were taken before the mayor this morning and stated that they lived in Fort Wayne, but had a chance to make some money at the exposition roasting and selling peanuts. One of the boys said he formerly lived at Buffalo and was familiar with the city so the mayor released them and told them to come back with a fortune.

RACE QUESTION IN ALABAMA.

Chairman of Constitutional Convention Expresses His Opinion.

Montgomery, Ala., May 23.—The constitutional convention elected John B. Knox of Calhoun president. In accepting the gavel Mr. Knox said: "The white man of the north would not submit to negro rule any more than would those of the south. This is our problem, and we should be left to deal with it in our sense of responsibility and recognized relations in the conduct of government. We don't hear of any threatened or real interference with any northern state in efforts to provide for purity of government, and there should be none with us. It has not been so much the elevation of the black man as it has been the humiliation of the white man that has characterized this conduct of the past, but much of it has been mollified by the statesmanlike and wise conservative course of the present chief executive of the United States, who is the president of the whole country and not merely of one section."

"We may differ with him politically," said General Knox, "but we must confess that by the policy he has pursued he has been enabled to bring about a reunited country."

Mrs. Bonine's Family.

St. Joseph, Mo., May 23.—The family of Mrs. Lulu Bonine, who is held in Washington on the charge of having murdered Census Clerk Ayres, resides in St. Joseph. Her mother is Mrs. Sarah A. Henry, stenographer in the office of Master Mechanic Chase of the Burlington road, is a sister of Mrs. Bonine, and Jewett Y. and Reno E., who also live with their mother, are brothers. The relatives of Mrs. Bonine are confident she will be cleared of all blame for the tragedy.

LIMA

Will be the Central Point

Of Two Roads

That Today Were Made Into One Line.

Detroit & Lima Northern is Sold to F. J. Lisman & Co., of N. Y.,

And the Price Paid was $1,700,500. Several Bids on the Parcels But Only One on the Road as a Whole.

The sale of the Detroit and Lima Northern railroad which took place at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the door of the station in this city was attended by perhaps a hundred people, most of whom were drawn out of curiosity but there was a handful of capitalists or their representatives from other cities who were directly interested, especially one, who had determination in his eye and the nerve too, as he expressed it, to bag the permissum.

The sale was offered first in parcels, and then as a whole. The bids on parcels brought several propositions. The first included all of the property of every kind covered by the mortgage to the Manhattan Trust Company on the 1st of October, 1895, and the first offer came from Jos. Bonner & Co., of Toledo, who offered $500,000, $500,000 more than the amount fixed by the court. D. C. Lefevre, of Buffalo added another fifty raising the amount to $550,000. Bonner & Co. bid $700,000, Lefevre $750,000 and the final bid of $800,000 by Bonner & Co. secured the first parcel.

The second parcel included all of the property covered by the mortgage to the Manhattan Trust Company on April 1st, 1897. There was but one bid, F. J. Lisman offering the upset price of $750,000.

The third parcel included the rolling stock of every kind and description and all furniture and appliances connected with the road. The upset price was $100,000 and that amount was offered by F. J. Lisman & Co. D. C. Lefevre raised the price $50,000 and no other bids were offered.

Master Commissioner Irwin Bedford then offered the property as a whole and the bid made by Lisman & Co., of New York of $1,700,500 was the only one heard. It was just $500 more than the aggregate amount offered for the three separate parcels and under the conditions of the sale the road and equipment passed into the hands of the eastern company.

The representatives of the purchasers stated to the Times-Democrat that the Detroit & Lima Northern road would be at once consolidated with the Ohio Southern and the two lines now merged into one would be put in first class condition in every respect. Lima, he added, would be made the central point, and as such will derive not a little benefit from the change. As for the location of the shops, or their possible removal from Springfield, that was a matter yet to be considered and nothing definite could be added to what has already been said.

In addition to those named the following parties interested in the sale were registered at the Cambridge. Clarence Brown, of Toledo; Henry W. Sprague, of Buffalo; W. C. Brown, of Fostoria; J. C. Bonner, of Toledo; Frank Rumsey, of Buffalo, and Julian Tyler, of Toledo.

Pennsylvania Changes.

All kinds of rumors concerning the Pennsylvania and a number of alleged contemplated changes in the official list are in circulation. The latest in this line is told in the following clipping from the Indianapolis Journal this morning: "John P. Green, first vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad company, is to be made chairman of the board of directors of the Baltimore & Ohio. James McCrea, first vice president of the Pennsylvania company, will succeed Mr. Green on the parent line, and L. F. Loree, fourth vice president of the Pennsylvania lines west, is likely to be appointed vice president and general manager of the Baltimore & Ohio, it being settled that Oscar Murray will remain in his present position on that road. The health of J. T. Brooks, second vice president of the Pennsylvania lines west, is such that he is liable to retire at any time and this brings Joseph Wood who is fully competent, to the position of first vice president of the Pennsylvania lines west, and will leave two vacancies in the list of vice presidents on the lines west of Pittsburg, one of which will doubtless be filled by transferring J. J. Turner from the Vandalia to the Pennsylvania lines at Pittsburg, and G. L. Potter will doubtless be one of the men promoted, he now being general manager of the transportation department."

Rockefeller's Through Line. It is stated upon positive authority that John D. Rockefeller's railroad plans include the establishment of a through line from New York to San Francisco under one management. It will be composed of the following roads: Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, Wabash, Missouri Pacific, Denver & Rio Grande, Rio Grand Western, Central Pacific.

The great combination will consist of the following roads: New York, New Haven & Hartford; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, Wabash, Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Chicago & Alton, Chicago Terminal Transfer, Chicago & Northwestern, Illinois Central, Chicago & Eastern Illinois, Evansville & Terre Haute, St. Louis & Southwestern, Denver & Rio Grand Western, Southern Pacific, Central Pacific, Mexican Central; Missouri, Kansas & Texas; Kansas City Southern.

All of these roads will work in close conjunction and will act as feeders for the Atlantic & Pacific Air Line, as the Rockefeller transcontinental road will probably be known. It will be the shortest road across the continent by many miles. It will be the pleasantest route, because it goes through temperate climates from ocean to ocean. It is said the aim of the new road is to reduce the time between New York and San Francisco by from 12 to 14 hours.

The road connections will be as follows: New York to Buffalo, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western; Buffalo to St. Louis, Wabash; St. Louis to Pueblo, Co., Missouri Pacific; Pueblo to Grand Junction, Col., Denver & Rio Grand; Grand Junction to Ogden, Utah, Rio Grand Western; Ogden to San Francisco, Central Pacific.

WANT

More Pay and Fewer Foremen.

A Strike is On

At Lima Locomotive and Machine Works.

Boilermakers and Helpers Laid Down Their Tools This Morning.

Grievances are Presented to the Officials and Will Undoubtedly be Adjusted by Tomorrow Morning.

This morning thirty-five boiler-makers and helpers employed at the Lima Locomotive & Machine Co.'s works on Market and Jackson streets, went out on a strike and although their grievances have not yet been thoroughly adjusted they will very probably return to work tomorrow morning. The demands that they have made upon the officials of the company are for an advance in wages and for the re-instatement of Mat Conway as the foreman and only foreman in the boiler-making department. Mr. Conway has not been removed from the position of foreman but another employe was given authority to give orders to the men in the boiler-makers' department and the men demand that there be but one foreman and that Mr. Conway be that one.

Mat Conway has served as foreman of the boiler-makers for more than a year and is very popular among the employes. Recently James Hannan, of Pittsburg, was employed by the company and it is understood that he will represent the company in the making of contracts for work. He entered the boiler-makers' department at the shops to investigate direct, in a measure, the work that is done in that department. The men were not informed whether or not Mr. Hannan's authority superseded Mr. Conway's and as they frequently received contrary orders from both men they became dissatisfied. This morning one of the boiler-makers was fitting up a boiler as the work requires, considerable assistance he had several helpers at work with him. Mr. Hannan called some of the helpers away to some other work and in a few minutes every employe in the shop laid down hammers and other tools and all walked out. They held a meeting and decided to present a demand for standard wages together with the request for the removal of Mr. Hannan's authority over them. The boiler-makers have been receiving 24 cents per hour and now ask for 25 cents, and the helpers ask to be advanced from 13, 13½ and 14 cents to 15 cents an hour.

A committee constituted by John E. Watts, James Hickey, George Sirelomb and Mat Conway called upon the officials and stated the grievance of the strikers. There was and is now no ill feeling whatever between the men and the company and the officials assured the committee that the grievances could be very quickly and amicably adjusted. The committee reported the result of their conference at a meeting the strikers held this afternoon. Their petition will be submitted to the company in writing and the strike will very probably be declared off this evening.
